

REPLACE WORN OR MISSING TOP HARDWARE

If you're replacing your top, now is a good time to check for worn or missing hardware and dry-rotted rubber seals. We carry the most commonly needed items. If your Alfa top leaks, but is otherwise in good condition, see our CD-ROM, containing video footage, on page 45.

Alfa & Fiat Note:
We recommend replacing side cables (#92000) to keep your top taut. Plus, a frayed cable can wear a hole in your new top!

* Note: There were three different header bows. 1968-78-type bow and latches are no longer available. This bow fits our top #2032 (see p. 4). The 1979-82-type header bow (#03549) uses latches with 30mm screw spacing (no longer available). The 1982-85 header bow (#03551) uses latches with 40mm screw spacing (#03552/03553). Our top #2033 fits these two header bows. We can supply a top and header bow for any 1968-on car, but they must match each other. Please call with questions.

TOP BOOTS

TECH TIP HOW TO PROTECT YOUR NEW TOP

Two ways you can help preserve your top are:
1. use a top boot, and
2. always fasten your top strap (below, right) to keep it from vibrating and chafing.
